Good Morning

DXN India is sole marketer of DXN products in India. We operate through our branches, authorised stockist and Distributors. We also sell through our own ecommerce site <https://eworld.dxn2u.com/>

We have noticed that many of our products are sold in online third party websites. We have also heard that there are fake products, expired products, damaged products are sold in Third party websites. Some products are over- priced. Some products are sold less than the net weight prescribed on the product label.

We would like to notify though it may resemble our products and bear our logo, it may not be our original products.
